DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-5 are pending in this application.

Election of Species

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species:

Claims 1-5 drawn to a process of making the compounds of formula (I),

wherein R¹ represents optionally substituted aryl, optionally substituted amino, optionally substituted alkyl, or optionally substituted alkoxy; R² represents a protective group of the carboxylic acid; and R³ represents an alkali metal, a hydrogen atom, optionally substituted alkyl, optionally substituted aryl, optionally substituted alkylsulfonyl, optionally substituted arylsulfonyl, or trialkylsilyl, said process comprising the step of:

The species are independent or distinct because of the numerous meanings of the variables R¹, R², and R³. It is impossible to ascertain a meaningful for search and examination purposes.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable.

Therefore, an election of species is required for search and examination purposes including an exact definition of each substitution on the base molecule (formula (I)), wherein a single member at each substituent group or moiety is selected. For example, if a base molecule has a substituent group R1,

wherein R¹ represents optionally substituted aryl, optionally substituted amino, optionally substituted alkyl, or optionally substituted alkoxy;

then applicant must select a single substituent of R1, for example methyl, and each subsequent variable position, i.e. R2, R3, etc.... In the instant case, upon election of a single compound, the Office will review the claims and disclosure to determine the scope of the independent invention encompassing the elected compound (compounds which are so similar thereto as to be within the same inventive concept and reduction to practice). The scope of an independent invention will encompass all compounds within the scope of the claim, which fall into the same class and subclass as the elected compound, but may also include additional compounds, which fall in related subclasses. Examination will then proceed on the elected compound AND the entire scope of the invention encompassing the elected compound as defined by common classification. A clear statement of the examined invention, defined by those class(es) and subclass(es) will be set forth in the first action on the merits. Note that the election of species requirement will not be made final until such time as applicant is informed of the full scope of compounds along with (if appropriate) the process of using or making said compound under examination. This will be set forth by reference to specific class(es) and subclass(es) examined. Should applicant traverse on the ground that the compound are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the compound to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other.

All compounds falling outside the class(es) and subclass(es) of the selected compound and any other subclass encompassed by the election above will be directed to nonelected subject matter and will be withdrawn from consideration under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 37 C.F.R. 1.142(b). Applicant may reserve the right to file divisional applications on the remaining subject matter. (The provisions of 35 U.S.C. 121 apply with regard to double patenting covering divisional applications.)

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

During a telephone conversation with Attorney John Isacson's office on 1 August 2006 and an election of species was not made.
